While the amount of Mac malware is still considerably less than that targeting Windows, it's still 100 times higher than what experts predicted just a few years ago.. It can cover a range of devices, so you can have it protect your Macs, or even any Windows PCs you have, or mobile devices.. They tested two key areas: how well the packages detected Mac-specific threats, and how well they protected against Macs in mixed-OS environments being hijacked to spread Windows malware.
